

Election March 6

Waveland school board seat draws feelers

At least two persons have apparently indicated an interest in running for Waveland's new board seat on the Bay St. Louis Municipal School board, although Superintendent of Education Joe McCulloch emphasized Wednesday no one has qualified formally to run in the March 6 election.

The election will be held to fulfill the vacancy which will be created by the retirement of Emile Hazeur, who was appointed by Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver five years ago.

Currently Waveland has only one member, Mrs. Gerald Townsend, on the school board.

Waveland Postmaster Walter Turcotte Jr. and Frank Shattuck, owner of Shattuck's Audio-TV, have both expressed an interest in running for the board vacancy.

Turcotte said he expected to make an announcement this weekend on his candidacy while Shattuck has already begun campaigning actively for the seat.

To qualify for the election, every candidate must file a petition containing the names of at least 25 qualified electors who are bona fide residents of the school district with the superintendent of education at least 10 days before the election.

In addition he must file affidavits certifying all signatures on his petition are the personal signature of each person whose name appears on his petition and that they are qualified electors.

He must file a second affidavit stating he is a qualified elector and a bona fide resident of the school district to be represented.

String of burglaries keep Bay police busy

The Bay St. Louis Police Department investigated three burglaries during the period Jan. 28 - Feb. 6 and apparently interrupted a fourth burglary in process, according to Police Chief Billy Carbonette.

According to Carbonette, Ptn. Larry Ladner noticed a broken lock on the VFW building while on routine patrol Feb. 1. When he stopped to investigate, he apparently frightened the would-be burglar away before he could enter the building.

A burglary at 244 Ballentine St. did not end as well. During a robbery Feb. 2, the burglar entered through a rear window of the house and stole various household items including a brass light fixture. Ptn. Alvin Favre handled the case which is still under investigation.

In a Jan. 31 burglary, Palmer Manning, 183 Harrison Court, reported that someone entered his home through a rear window. Investigating officers Ladner and Greg Richardson reported that there was evidence someone had eaten in the house, but nothing was reported missing.

For the second time in two months, North Bay Elementary School was broken into and a tape recorder was stolen. Frank Hess, investigating officer, said the building was entered through a window.

Police report that a 1975 Ford stolen from Bubba Oustale Ford Jan. 26 was found abandoned Feb. 4 at a car-wash located at the intersection of U. S. Highway 90 and Main St.

In an unrelated auto theft, the same day, Mary K. Deen reported her 1974 Chevrolet stolen while parked at the intersection of Ulman and Second Streets. The license number is 789 CAJ.

A two car accident which occurred Feb. 2 resulted in property damage only. The accident happened at Booker St. and Old Spanish Trail when Charlene Haynes, driving a 1974 Honda automobile, attempted to turn left on Booker and collided with a 1955 Ford panel truck driven by Roland Daigle.

Police ask citizens to "Invest a dime to prevent a crime" by calling Crime Stop, 467-3446, if a crime is spotted in process.

Chief Carbonette also urges citizens to use the department's Operation Identification to engrave valuable items. He said a $200 citizens band radio, which had been marked, was found in Hattiesburg last week.

Better pay, minimum programs

Teacher recommendations emerge

By JAKE JACOB

Three teachers from Hancock County attended a one day Teacher's Workshop Monday in Jackson.

Called by Dr. Charles Holladay, state superintendent of education, the session was one of a series designed to assist in the development of an overall educational program.

Attending from Bay Junior High School were Mrs. Cathy Carter and Mrs. Judy Barrett. Mrs. Rebecca Kennedy represented the Hancock County system.

Larry Hogue, public relations coordinator with the state education department, said Tuesday that the teacher program followed a like session for superintendents held on Jan. 16. Hogue said recommendations of the teachers' group were in the process of being tabulated and compared to those of the administrators.

To develop as comprehensive a program as possible, Holladay will next meet with members of the public, parents, and other interested and concerned groups, Hogue reported.

Hogue said seven main recommendations had been presented in the initial session.

The first, Hogue said, was to develop a uniform set of school laws. Mississippi has 150 school districts operating under five separate sets of laws, he said.

The minimum education program, was next on the list. At present the minimum program does not provide money for such basic accreditation items as art, physical or, special education. To maintain the basic teaching unit in these areas presently calls for a heavy expenditure of local funds.

Another recommendation was for a consideration of an increase in salaries, the state scale being some $1,100 below the national average for school teachers. Finally there was a recommendation for a statewide equalization of taxes, including 16th section land management, an item referred to in Governor Cliff Finch's State of the State address.

Required school attendance was also proposed with the superintendents recommending a gradual influx into the first grade and a spin-out limit of 12 years-old or completion of the sixth grade.

Methods for school improvement overall followed, with emphasis on career education and the like.

Finally came agreement with the state office calling for improvement of services to local schools and the public in such areas as management skills and self evaluations.

Some of the recommendations made by the teachers' session also dealt with minimum education programs. These also called for consideration to be given to the inclusion of kindergarten level classes into public finance.

Action was also sought on attracting members of the professional and business communities to serve on school boards, in an effort to expand availability of jobs in Mississippi. The recommendation said a greater effort is required to keep young people at home, and this may be possible by the provision of more jobs.

In keeping with that theme, a further recommendation asked for consideration in the lowering of technical vocational school grade level to Grade 8 from the present Grade 11 requirement.

Looking at finances, the teaching group sought change from the Average Daily Attendance count now in effect, to a system closer to reality, the Average Daily Enrollment. As matters now stand, they claimed, this year's flu epidemics, and resulting high absentee rate, will seriously affect the maintenance of teacher units in 1977.

The classroom personnel also sought a more direct route from the state department to the classroom. Too much gets bogged down at the superintendent's office level throughout the state, they claimed, adding that much of the supplied material never reaches the classroom teacher.

Other topics recommended included reference to the proposed 12 month school operation, a measure being studied to relieve classroom overcrowding.

NAVOCEANO

Gesell sets new deadline for transfer proposal

WASHINGTON, D. C. — U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard A. Gesell has set April 1 as the deadline for Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld to resubmit a recommendation on the transfer of 1,300 Naval Oceanographic Office (NAVOCEANO) employees to the National Space Technologies Laboratories (NSTL) in Hancock County.

Following last week's status conference with attorneys for the Navy and Prince Georges County, Maryland, Gesell said amendments to the Navy's impact statement on the move must be completed and circulated by Feb. 13. All comments are to be received by March 5 in order to prepare a final draft for submission to Rumsfeld March 12. The schedule ordered by Gesell calls for the Navy to file the amended impact statement in court, if Rumsfeld's decision is favorable to the move, then file a motion to dissolve the preliminary injunction issued last Dec. 5. The injunction stopped the transfer of employees and called for a Dec. 31 halt to NAVOCEANO-related construction at the NSTL site.

Gesell issued the injunction on the basis that the Navy had overlooked the availability of adequate housing and schools for low income and racial minority families when they submitted the first impact statement.

The plaintiffs will then have two weeks to make a rebuttal and submit motions for a summary judgement against the relocation. If this happens, Gesell will immediately set a hearing date to resolve the issues.

Planners say CZM plan seeks best use of natural resources

By JAKE JACOB

"We are planning for a plan," J. E. Thomas, executive director of the Mississippi Marine Resources Council, told an audience of about 60 at Tuesday night meeting to discuss the state's coastal zone management (CZM) plan.

The meeting open to the public was held in the Hancock County Courthouse. CZM, said Thomas, was a shield against federal encroachment into Mississippi's unique problems and an instrument to let the state deal with its own problems.

"We realize it is difficult for people to understand our intentions at this point, but we are involving the public from the plan's inception."

"The people are not being asked to approve anything at this time, it is all in the discussion stage," Thomas said. Thomas asked that people adopt a "wait and see" attitude, to permit further plan development.

"We are not trying to put anything over on anybody," the council director said.

Stressing the Marine Resources Council was not attempting to implement "just another federal program," Thomas said it was funded by both federal and state monies on a two thirds, one third ratio.

The CZM is a Mississippi coastal area development plan to establish rational land and water usage within its area of jurisdiction.

Created by the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, the program is the state's effort to conform to the Congressional requirement to "...preserve, protect, develop, and restore coastal resources."

The Congressional bill wording said the zone includes coastal waters and adjacent lands "strongly influenced" by each other. The CZM, again in conformation must also include management outlines for lands with "existing, projected, or potential" uses that have "direct and significant impacts" on the waters.

"The value of coastal properties is directly determined by the waters around us," Thomas said Wednesday.

"The commercial fisherman wants a good, clean bottom to the water, clear of wrecks and other encumbrances."

"The sports fisherman likes a trashy sea bottom, claiming such engenders aquatic life.

"Industry likes to dump waste in the water."

"All may have legitimate claims," Thomas said, and the CZM addresses itself to each party involved.

"CZM's intent is not to 'take over anybody's land' or anything like that," Thomas added, "but to put together a packet beneficial to everybody."

Questioned about the controversy concerning the DuPont plant establishment adjacent to, and directly affecting, the Bay of St. Louis, Thomas answered, "This is a good example of the CZM's worth."

"When completed the plan will spell out what can go where, and offer a firm set of residential, recreational, and industrial development guidelines."

Thomas said one of the initial problems confronting his staff is the determination of boundaries, and the public meetings were developing input for their guidance.

He said the zone must include salt marshes, wetlands, and beaches, but would exclude federally operated lands such as the islands forming the Gulf National Seashore, and the fee and buffer lands of the NASA National Space Technology Laboratories, although the development of these lands would have to be in conformance with the final plan.

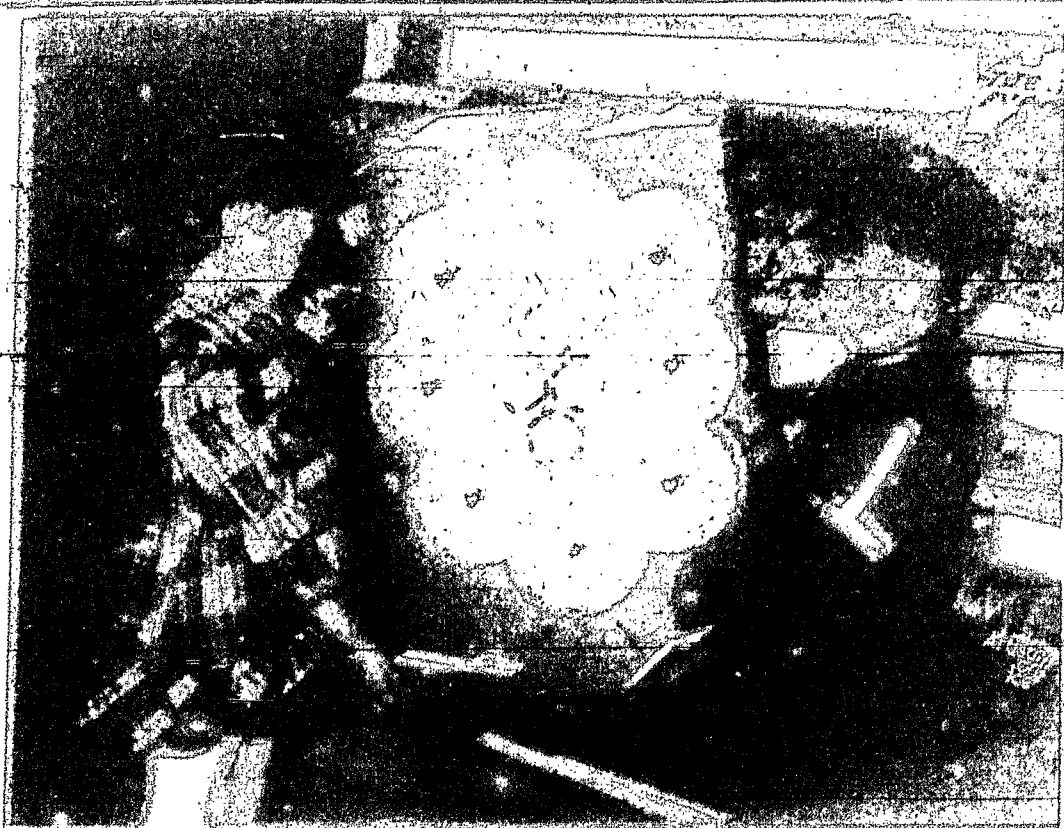

According to present tractable requirements set by Mississippi Marine Resources Council staff, the preliminary CZM version is due by Aug. 31, and the final by Dec. 15.

Consideration is also being afforded the possibility of holding a public referendum before the program's adoption by the state legislature or U. S. Department of Commerce.

Ladner dissents

School board rehires Pearllington principal

By CAROL LANGE

Following a lengthy executive session, the Hancock school board voted 4-1 Tuesday to rehire James D. Baldree as principal of Charles B. Murphy Elementary School in Pearllington.

Real one board member Oris Ladner cast the dissenting vote, citing Baldree's lack of discipline in the school. Ladner said he objected to a number of students reportedly calling the principal "limbo."

Baldree refused to comment in questions asked him during his 45 minute closed door session with the board.

A board member, who asked not to be identified, said the questions concerned "political allegation" made against Baldree. He said the allegations were false, and added James Baldree is an A-1 principal.

Four parents of Charles B. Murphy Elementary School students attended the meeting to offer Mr. Baldree all our support. The women peppered Ladner with questions about his nay vote, but were left unsatisfied by his answers.

Ladner would only comment that discipline problems at the school caused him to vote against rehiring the principal.

Acting on a motion from board member Johnny Banks, the board voted to send a letter of apology to Harrison Central High School and Bobby Ladner, Harrison County superintendent of education, for "the heat shot" that occurred during basketball night's basketball game between Harrison Central and Hancock North Central high schools.

According to Banks, a spectator injured the public address system during half time and caused embarrassment to both teams by his remarks in favor of the home team.

The board accepted a resolution calling for the school's public address system to be handled by professional school employees only as a result of the incident.

In other business, the board voted to accept the resignation of George E. Holliday, maintenance man of Charles B. Murphy.

A motion to include two proposals into the school district's policy manual was tabled to give the board more time to study the proposals. Both concern the objectives of education for the county schools.

State Fish & Game gardens C. J. Cameron and George Wright presented the board with a proposal to conduct a winter safety program for seventh, eighth and ninth graders in the county school district. Wright said the program would familiarize students with winter safety first aid, and the basics and fundamentals of winter safety.

The board suggested that Cameron and Wright meet with Superintendent Terrell Randolph to work out details on adding the program to the school curriculum.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 23 at 9 a.m.

Goodman named NORDA technical director

Dr. Ralph H. Goodman, who has an international reputation in the field of oceanography, has accepted the position of technical director of the Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity (NORDA), according to NORDA commanding officer Capt. Charles Darrell.

Goodman was cited for helping NRL achieve "a remarkable status in the area of ocean science, ocean technology, and underwater acoustics." As technical director of NORDA, Dr. Goodman will be the senior civilian scientist and will be responsible for the direction of its scientific program. NORDA will not only conduct basic research in oceanography under contract with the nation's leading oceanographic institutions, but will also operate the Navy's first in-house laboratory dedicated to oceanographic research. NORDA will thus become the focal point in the Navy for oceanographic research.

DR. RALPH GOODMAN

A native of Detroit, Dr. Goodman conducted his undergraduate and graduate studies at the University of Michigan where he received a Ph.D. degree in physics in 1958. He has been associated with the Navy through much of his career, starting with the Navy Electronics Laboratory in San Diego in 1958. After 18 months there and three years at Colorado State University, he served as consultant to NATO's Antisubmarine Warfare Center in La Spezia, Italy, in 1963. He returned to Colorado State where he rose to the post of Acting Chairman of the Department of Physics before receiving his appointment to NRL.

Dr. Goodman, who has included theoretical and experimental, geophysical, oceanographic, and oceanographic acoustic transmission in the sea. He has been in a number of positions of responsibility in oceanographic research and has been the chief scientist on two large multi-laboratory ocean operations in the Atlantic Ocean. He has lectured in acoustics at the Service School of the American Physical Society, the American Geophysical Union, the American Institute of Physics, and is a fellow of the Acoustical Society of America. He has also served on the Committee on Undersea Warfare of the National Academy of Sciences.

Donations asked for Guatemalan victims

Hancock Red Cross chapter chairman, Mayor Warren Carver, announced today that the American Red Cross had made a contribution of $100,000 to victims of the Guatemala earthquake.

In Hancock County, the community has always supported the Red Cross disaster plan through their United Fund or contributions to their local chapter, Carver said.

The U. S. government has advised the governors of each state to discourage contribution of used clothing, food and other gifts, Carver said. Therefore at this time the greatest needs are for cash contributions, he added.

Any monetary contributions may be mailed to the American Red Cross, P.O. Box 149, Bay St. Louis, Ms. 39520. Donations should be marked "Guatemalan relief fund."

All money collected will be sent to the Red Cross national headquarters immediately.

Close checks on dairy cows improves calving

There are many things you can do to get your cows on a 15-month calving interval. Here are some suggestions:

Give attention to cows with calving problems. You might need help from a veterinarian. Watch for signs of heat and record all heat dates even though it is too early to inseminate.

Cows should have two heat periods before the heat period passed 60 days in milk. A good indication of a healthy reproductive tract are two heat periods about 21 days apart.

Have a regular time to check for heat twice a day. Failure to catch animals in heat probably contributes more to long calving periods than any other one factor. A cow cannot be inseminated unless she is caught in heat. Don't lose money because you are negligent in this area!

SOIL TEST PASTURES
Soil samples from pastures should be taken now and sent to the soil testing laboratory. This will allow ample time for you to get the analysis before summer fertilizer needs to be applied.

Most soils in Mississippi need lime and the main reason for liming is to increase the efficiency of fertilizer.

Permanent pastures that are low in pH are not efficient.

users of fertilizers. Where the pH is adjusted with lime, the pasture fertilizer dollar will grow more forage.

CORN

Corn planting time is almost here. Planting early improves the chances of getting good moisture supply and distribution at the time of silking. Planting on a slightly raised seedbed will improve seedling emergence and survival.

On good soils plant about 20,000 seed per acre. Adjusting the planters to drop a seed about every eight inches in 28 to 40-inch rows should give the desired plant population.

Preemergence weed control materials for corn include Aatrex or a mixture of Aatrex and Princep. These will give good grass control except for broadleaf signalgrass and good early season control of many broadleaf weeds.

Where signalgrass is a problem, Lasso plus Aatrex is recommended. Sutan plus Aatrex or Sutan alone, will suppress outgrass. Eraglone will give good control of rhizome and seedling johnsongrass.

Post Office

closed Feb. 16

All post offices will be closed Monday Feb. 16 in observance of Washington's Birthday, according to Bay St. Louis Postmaster Frank Taconi.

There will be no window service or deliveries to either city or rural routes. All incoming mail will be distributed and placed in lock boxes that morning.

Mail will be collected from street boxes on the holiday schedule and all outgoing mail will be dispatched on schedule.

Special Delivery mail will be serviced on the holiday.

The District Award of Merit, scouting's highest award to adult leadership, was bestowed on Norton Haas of Bay St. Louis Friday at the Cypress District of New Orleans Area Council annual adult recognition banquet.

Staged at the American Legion, Bay St. Louis, the affair attracted over 100 area scouts.

Rev. George Fisher of Slidell, La., was banquet chairman. John D. Rutherford acted as chief chef assisted by the Legion kitchen staff and scouts from Post 208.

Bill Von Aimer of Slidell was also presented the District Award of Merit for his work in the promotion of scouting.

Service to scouting on the unit, district, and council levels, were among the honors listed on the Haas citation.

Currently serving as finance chairman of the Cypress District, Haas is also on the troop committee of Scout Troop 304 and serves on the Council executive board.

His past activities include service as capital campaign chairman for Salmen Scout Reservation in Hancock County.

Application dates given for cost-share assistance

Farmers wishing to sign up for soil and water conservation cost-share assistance under the 1976 ACP program should do so between Feb. 17-27 at the Pearl River-Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Poplarville.

Applications must be signed for needed practices, according to Hancock ASCS chairman B. L. Dossett.

Dossett said priorities have been selected by the county committee in order to use limited funds to carry out county, state and national goals.

These program objectives, said Dossett, are 1) conservation of soil and water on farmland beyond what the individual farmer could accomplish without cost share assistance. 2) Prevention and control of environmental pollution. 3) Conservation of land and natural resources to improve the efforts of farmers to produce food and fiber for the maintenance of a healthy people and economy.

Pre-school registration

Feb. 24 at Hancock School

Pre-school student registration is set for 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 24, at Hancock North Central Elementary School, according to James O'Hara, principal. O'Hara said Monday that students wanting to attend Grade 1 in the 1976-77 school year should register at this time. "To qualify, students must be six-years-old before Dec. 31, 1976.

"Birth certificates and immunization records must be produced at time of registration," the elementary school principal said.

Cookie sale to raise troop, Ita Kana funds

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale drive is well underway, according to Mrs. Marilyn Hille, neighborhood cookie chairman.

Mrs. Hille said funds realized from the sale will go to the individual troops and towards completion of Camp Ita Kana.

Girl Scout Neighborhood Chairman Mrs. John Holmes said the cookie sales program gives Girl Scouts an opportunity to earn money for their troop's activities.

"This sale lets the girls participate in this special opportunity to raise funds to purchase both troop and camp equipment," Mrs. Holmes said.

Cookie chairman Hille said the sale is conducted entirely by volunteers, with the direct support of the Girl Scout staff.

"The Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council is a participating agency of the United Way," she said, adding "All money received from this fund however are for operating expenses only, and do not cover such necessary expenses as troop and camp requirements.

Mrs. Holmes said that to encourage the girls in their efforts, Ita Kana campships will be awarded to the four girls who sell the most packages of cookies. Other prizes, to apply throughout the council area, will be a bicycle, drawing at both brownie and junior levels, and a gift certificate for the cadettes and seniors.

"Finally," Mrs. Hille said,

"all girls who sell 48 packages will receive an achievement patch, with a special packages."

Blood bank sets drawing

The Hancock County Blood Bank will conduct a blood drawing Wednesday, Feb. 18 from 2 to 3 p.m. in the American Legion Home on Green Meadow Road.

Beauvoir gets federal grant

WASHINGTON — Mississippi congressman Trent Lott Friday announced approval of a $5,750 National Endowment for the Arts grant for renovation work at the Jefferson Davis Beauvoir Shrine in Biloxi, Ms.

Lott said the grant will be used to defray costs of climate control, security and storage projects at the shrine.

"South Mississippians are very proud of Jefferson Davis' last home," Lott said. "I think it is significant that we celebrate our bicentennial with projects that preserve our nation's rich history."

was critical due to present low blood supplies and high demands.

"We are asking everyone between the ages of 18 and 60, who is physically able, to come in on this day and give a pint of blood," Rutherford said.

"The time to give blood," Rutherford added, "is when we are able so that when emergencies arise patient care will not be delayed due to blood shortages."

Trained nurses will be on station to process all donors, testing for blood pressure, clotting ability, and to draw blood.

Striking machinists accept new contract

Striking members of the International Association of Machinists (IAM) Local 2248 voted Sunday to accept a 40 cents per hour across the board wage increase offered by Global Associates, support services contractor at the National Space Technology Laboratories.

Acceptance of the offer ended a four day strike which began at midnight Feb. 12 and involved approximately 400

IAM and other union member employees. According to a union spokesman, all 250 IAM workers returned to the job Monday.

The workers asked for a 47 cents hourly increase, a pension plan, and a paid insurance plan.

Russell Kelley, IAM business agent, said Wednesday from his office in Pascagoula that Global offered a pension plan effective Jan. 1, 1977 provided that the IAM plan apply to all Global employees. He said the IAM labor management board would have to vote on the offer before it could be accepted by union members.

The insurance plan will be negotiated at a later date.

Kelley said the union will investigate the policies of insurance companies other than the one they are currently dealing with due to that company's escalating rates.

Kelley would not release the actual vote count, but said Global's contract offer was accepted "by a fairly good margin." He said a federal mediator was involved in negotiations between IAM and Global at a meeting Friday.

Compress from the past will gather attention again

GREENWOOD, Miss. — An unusual and priceless hand operated cotton compress, estimated by many long-standing residents from Lexington, (who recall when it was used to bale cotton at the Lexington Compress and Storage Company) to be well over 100-years-old, has been donated to the Mississippi Park Commission by Herbert A. Hyman of Lexington.

The valuable compress is presently being cleaned and repaired for display in the forewood River Plantation Cotton Museum in Leflore county near Greenwood as soon as the new park facility is completed.

"No one can actually recall when the old cotton compress was first used at the old Lexington Compress and Storage Company," Hyman stated. "Although most of the older residents reply that it was used as far back as they can remember."

After the Lexington Compress Company ceased using the cotton baling machine a number of years ago, the old hand operated compress was moved to a special building near the site where it has remained in storage for the last 40 years.

"I have always been deeply interested in the history of cotton in our state," Hyman said, "and when I found out a year ago that the old cotton compress could be purchased, I took advantage of the opportunity immediately."

"Later I learned that the Park Commission would be interpreting the history of cotton at Forewood River Plantation Museum, so I donated the compress to be exhibited there as soon as the new park is completed. I felt that the old compress could help play an important role in relating the history of cotton."

Additionally, Hyman donated an old cotton bale loader to be displayed in the museum. The loader which is made of a curved iron bar construction, works on the principal of an old rocking chair and was once used to load wagons and freight cars at Lexington.

"We are deeply grateful to Mr. Hyman for donating the valuable compress and cotton loader to our museum," State Park director Dr. Lee Meredith stated.

"The unique design of the compress is part of the great history of cotton and demonstrates man's unrelenting perseverance as well as his ingenious capability — a spirit of true determination that has helped to mold this great nation of ours."

The cotton compress is scheduled to be placed in the museum in the spring in time for the anticipated official opening of the new park in June.

Chicken Chefs Urged To Enter State Contest

MISSISSIPPI STATE — Mississippi chefs should begin deciding on their favorite chicken recipe to enter in the State Chicken Cooking Contest.

Each contestant must submit his recipe and official entry form by April 1 to the National Chicken Cooking Contest, 614 Madison Building, 1155 - 15th St., N.W., Washington, D. C. 20005.

Sponsored by the Mississippi Poultry Association, Inc., and the MCES, the State Chicken Cooking Contest is scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m., May 12, in the Mississippi State University Home Economics Department located in Moore Hall.

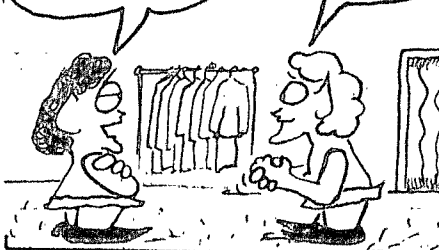

From the eight district winners a state winner will be chosen to represent Mississippi in the National Chicken Cooking Contest to be held July 14, in Philadelphia, Penn.

Official entry forms may be obtained from any county Extension home economist; the Extension Poultry Science Department at Mississippi State University; or by writing to the Mississippi Poultry Association, Inc., P. O. Box 12182, Jackson, MS 39211.

LAW OF THE SEA

If the member nations attending the next session of the Law of the Sea Conference in late March don't understand that the United States is serious about protecting its territorial fishing rights, it won't be because the Congress hasn't spelled it out in clear and simple language.

The message was underscored on Jan. 28 when the Senate overwhelmingly approved legislation extending U.S. fishing rights from 12 to 200 miles. The House had passed a similar measure on Oct. 9, 1975.

The House bill would put the 200-mile limit into effect on July 1, 1976. The Senate version would delay it until July 1, 1977. A House-Senate conference to iron out the differences has not yet taken place, but insiders say that the legislators will agree on a Jan. 1, 1977, date.

What it all means is that, beginning sometime next year, foreign fishing fleets will no longer be allowed to camp 12 miles off our shores and haul in tremendous catches of fish without explicit permission from U.S. authorities. Such fleets have seriously depleted many of our fish stocks in recent years, particularly in the Northeast and the Northwest.

Congressional leaders are hoping that their "get tough" stance will force the issue to a head and encourage the Law of the Sea conferees to approve an international agreement on fishing and other ocean rights. The U.S. legislators are simply tired of waiting on the conferees, who have been floundering around on the issue long enough.

Congress passed the legislation only after considering several nagging questions. The main questions were about the capability of the Coast Guard to protect the 200-mile zone and the costs involved in protecting it.

The bill's sponsors argued that only a marginal additional capability would be needed for the Navy to patrol the zone. They argued that the Navy would not need to be everywhere at once, only at obvious trouble areas.

Costs of the additional patrols were said to be relatively small, considering the vast numbers of fish such a zone would protect. It would seem even smaller if you consider the fish that would be saved for our own fishermen.

Some critics of the bill question the wisdom of offending some of our foreign friends. They fail to remember the number of times U.S. fishing vessels have been seized by countries already observing a 200-mile limit.

Foreign fleets would not exactly be barred from American waters under the provisions of the bill. They would simply need a license to operate within the 200-mile limit and their catches would be restricted.

The measure would establish a series of limitations for various kinds of fish within 200 miles of our shores. It would not apply to highly migratory fish such as tuna.

Such a limit would be a blow to Russia and Japan, who have for years fished extensively just beyond the present 12-mile limit. Only last month, there were 97 Russian fishing vessels off the U.S. East Coast.

Others who have made a habit of fishing near our shores include Poland, Cuba, Bulgaria, East Germany, and Rumania. They have virtually wiped out fish populations in some parts of the Atlantic.

Most U.S. fishermen heartily endorse the 200-mile limit. Gulf Coast fishermen, in fact, voiced their support of it in 1974 when the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee conducted hearings in Biloxi at my request.

I applaud the action of the Congress and I urge participants in the Law of the Sea Conference to quickly get about the business of establishing some international agreements.

February-- birth month of Presidents

By JOE PILET

February -- shortest month in the calendar year, and blessed this year with an extra day -- has the fullest calendar ever! Even with careful "picking and choosing" we'll never make it to all the worthwhile things offered.

Natchez will draw another crowd when the representatives from 66 Mississippi Chapters National Society Daughters of the American Revolution will convene.

Laurel, the cultural gem of South Mississippi, through its Lauren Rogers Library & Museum of Art has opening and tea, on Sundays Feb. 8-29 with a presentation and exhibition of recent paintings by Billy Ford and Alan Plattmann, plus the Madrigal Singers in concert under direction of Mildred Valentine.

Gulf Coast attractions beckon those seeking quality entertainment: balls, and ballets, wagon trains and horse shows; parades and parties; orchestras. We're living in a dizzy world of multiple choice.

February -- with both Abraham Lincoln and George Washington birthday anniversaries to celebrate will be marked with patriotic luncheons, flag hoisting and sundry commemorations. It doesn't make much sense to me, but we are told to celebrate George Washington's birthday this year on Feb. 16 instead of the actual date of his birth, Feb. 22. I have a feeling that Mary Ball (mother of our first president) and Augustine (his father) wouldn't approve of changing this date.

My flag goes up on the date when George Washington was born on Pope's Creek Farm in Westmoreland County of Virginia -- February 22.

Memorials large and impressive, small and secluded and somewhere in between have been erected in honor of our first president. Buildings in our nation's capitol are a fitting and lasting tribute to the Great Colonial military leader of the American Revolution: gentleman -- soldier -- statesman.

Feb. 12 -- Lincoln's Birthday -- did you know there has been a serious proposal that the Biloxi Lighthouse be painted Red, White and Blue? This frequently photographed and frequently painted Biloxi landmark was painted black when Abraham Lincoln's assassination was mourned by a grief stricken nation.

April 14, 1965 marked the 100th anniversary of this assassination which robbed our nation of a strong and able leader. The majestic statue of Lincoln which dominates the interior of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington is a tasteful and outstanding tribute to this statesman -- champion of emancipation and reunion.

February -- according to legend Romulus did not even include it when he made his first 10-month Roman Calendar. When the calendar added two months it included Februarius -- from the Latin word meaning "to purify." (The Romans purified themselves in February to prepare for festivals to start the New Year then beginning in March.)

Julius Caesar changed all that when he declared January the New Year, February the second month and demoted it from its original 30 days length to 28. (Leap year an exception).

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo,

What is going on in this country? I can't believe my eyes when I read and hear the utility companies poor mouthing and wanting to raise their rates. I think it is time that we DEMAND A CUT of at least one-half the present rate. I am not in the least concerned about how they do it - they just MUST CUT PRICES. (At the Washington level.)

We have a Day Care Center for low income older persons in Hancock County and one after another of these old people have come in to show me their current utility bills. Can you imagine how they feel when they get a bill for $50.00 for one month for gas and water and their total income for the month is $157. These are proud people who have always paid their bills and it never enters their head that they aren't going to continue to do so. They come in with that fearful look on their faces - "What am I going to do?" It has passed the point of saying "Gosh, that sure is awful - we will just have to tighten up." Can you believe, I sent a man out to an 83-year-old woman's small home to cut off her pilot light on her apartment size stove and lowered again the temperature of her water heater in an effort to cut her utility bill. The awfulness of doing this disgraceful act spurred me to write this letter. When an 83-year-old woman cannot afford a pilot light on her stove it is the last straw. It is not safe for her to be messing with matches for a tiny light on her stove. It is a national disgrace.

We have an invalid lady who lives alone, cooks from her wheel chair, who is in the hands of loan sharks as she cannot live on $183 per month, pay $54 to stay warm, $7 for lights, $10 for a phone (which is a necessity for an invalid who lives alone), pay her husband's funeral bills, pay food stamps, pay on a loan to fix her home after Camille damage, and $45 a month for medication which is not covered by Medicaid. Where does she cut to pay higher utility and phone bills?

These are not a minority of cases. I, and those working with senior citizens, and I am sure those working with poor children could fill a book with stories like these. Our old people living on the fringe of society now have bills coming in higher and higher for less and less. After you have turned off your pilot lights, where do you go? It is one heck of a note!

Let us start a deluge of petitions DEMANDING A REDUCTION IN UTILITY BILLS - THE PRESENT RATE - for a starter. Let us demand the telephone company return the money they have taken from us in anticipation of a raise in rates and also demand that they reduce their rates. Speak out -- don't just sit there until they turn off your gas altogether. It seems they will take, raise, and take more - there is no endless we declare an end. Start petitions, write letters - DEMAND, DEMAND, DEMAND. It is not our local people that need to hear as much as WASHINGTON. Yours very truly, Eve McDonald

Editor, Sea Coast Echo,

I want to qualify these statements before I make my point. To begin with I want everybody to know that I don't hate animals. Fact is I am a member of The National Wild Life Federation and help to support it. Everybody knows that I have kept in my home little wild animals like birds and rabbits and named them until their ears droop.

But what I am talking about is DOGS - not necessarily muttals - just the kind of street dogs common to Bay St. Louis.

Almost any day a night dog do a trot through my yard and straight to my garbage can. They make a clatter in upsetting it that would startle Rip Van Winkle.

These dogs multiply faster than someone can catch them. I believe we have a problem of sorts.

I also believe that a true leader is marked not by who is following him - but by what he is following.

Wouldn't it be appropriate if someone could lead the way to an animal shelter where a county hired and county paid vet did a little operation rendering these animals incapable of overpopulating the earth.

Joe Pilet

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

The annual basketball tournament at the Valena C. Jones gymnasium was a remarkable success in attendance and performance.

Teams with their fans from Louisiana, the Mississippi Gulf Coast, Hattiesburg and other areas were present and actively involved in this praiseworthy event.

The proceeds from this tournament are donated to the Valena C. Jones United Methodist Church of Bay St. Louis.

Recognition and grateful appreciation are given to Coach Willie Bradley for his excellent leadership in this project, to the community for their wholehearted support, and for the fine spirit of sportsmanship that the visiting teams exhibited in this annual tournament.

KERSHNER'S COMMENTARY

By Dr. Howard E. Kershner

Report from East and West Germany

Mr. William E. Dannemeyer of California is a good friend of ANSWERS. He sends us an interesting article comparing capitalism with socialism as he observed them in a recent tour through West and East Germany. As one would expect, there is a striking difference between the high standard of living in West Germany and the scarcities and inconveniences of East Germany. Even so, East Germany is doing far better than any other Communist country. It has not yet squandered the heritage developed under the freedom that formerly existed.

Mr. Dannemeyer found pornographic literature in greater abundance in West Germany than in East Germany. From this he properly draws the lesson that freedom depends on voluntary acceptance of the moral law. Only moral men can be free, and if men are unwilling to accept the discipline of observing it, their freedom will be short-lived. At the same time, Mr. Dannemeyer points out the grave danger of a system where the moral law is fixed by the State. In Communist lands, for instance, the Party determines what is right or wrong. Men no longer look to the sacred writings, the saints, the prophets, and the seers, but must accept the decision of the Party as the only means of distinguishing right from wrong.

Mr. Dannemeyer points to another weakness in the free countries -- the willingness of officials to do the popular thing rather than the right thing. Referring to America, he says, for instance, "Unemployment in this country is too high at the present time, particularly among the minority teenagers. Before we condemn capitalism for creating this condition, we should recognize that it is a part of our national policy. We have exported hundreds of thousands of jobs to foreign lands such as Mexico, Taiwan, Singapore, and Korea, through the existence of a minimum wage. Thousands of jobs go unfilled in this country because social programs exist which deter people who are out of work from moving to another part of the country, entering a different field, or working for less money than the job of their expectation." He thinks also that the government should publish statistics on the jobs which are available in our country in the same frequency and to the same extent that the unemployment figures are published. He thinks (and I agree and have done it) that there should be more flexibility and more willingness on the part of the people to go to the job, rather than to wait until the job is brought to them.

BICENTENNIAL NEWS & NOTES

by Joe Pilet

My Aunt Johnnie Hart wasn't exactly a string saver, but she did accumulate a lot of things...like sweetpeas pressed between the pages of books of poetry, samples of tatting for book marks, and newspaper clippings. Aunt Johnnie grew up in Bay St. Louis, attended the old St. Joseph's Academy and later on taught school here.

I treasure some of Aunt Johnnie's medals -- won as a student -- one is gold, very ornate and about as big as a silver dollar. On the face side is engraved: "St. Joseph's Academy Bay St. Louis, June 1894" on the reverse side is engraved "Excellence Miss J. Hart" the other medals are silver and one says "Donated by V. R. H. Leduc."

Aunt Johnnie kept a little pin -- sort of a souvenir from one of the earlier members of our family who went to Philadelphia for the exposition. That expo, by the way, was when Ulysses S. Grant was serving the final year of his second term. Our flag back then had 36 stars. America's centennial birthday party was celebrated in Philadelphia from May 10 until November 10. It was a goodie -- 49 nations put exhibits in 200 buildings.

People drank the new Hire's "root beer" and liked it fine. Alexander Graham Bell put in a last minute entry. It was a telephone -- and it only talked one way, but he was soon to correct that.

The most wonderful thing about that Expo was a lady -- a patriot -- and a newspaper publisher. Her name was Mrs. Charles F. Diehm. This foresighted woman got the idea that it would be of interest to her posterity if she prepared a "Centennial Safe" fill it with things she felt of interest and leave instructions to have it opened on July 4, 1976.

Mrs. Diehm, a Civil War widow, traveled about the country urging support for the "centennial safe" and got about a hundred thousand signatures for her "album."

It is now presumed that this "Centennial Safe" will be opened on the fourth of July. On Jan. 19 Speaker Carl Albert (D) of Oklahoma stood on the first floor of the East Front Lobby of the Capitol, fulfilled the ceremony of opening the bicentennial year and opened the outer iron door of Mrs. Diehm's safe.

Through the inner glass door, which will remain closed until July 4, visitors can sort of peer through and get a dim view of the contents. How large is it? It measures 50 inches wide, 40 inches deep and 64 inches high.

It will be interesting to speculate on the content of this safe. Maybe there will be a write up and picture of Susan B. Anthony agitating for women's rights to vote. Will there be something from Tiffany? Wedgewood? Will there be a signed copy of the original scores of Wagner's "Centennial Inaugural March"?

Doubtless, readers will fight the civil war again -- that is, if the newspaper hasn't turned into dust. Looking over the signatures, assuming we'll be able to read them, which of our ancestors will we find there? I'll be looking for the Balls, the Harts, the Williams, Pounds and Warners. Who is on your Search List?

only $16 MILLION.

That was quite a deal. Even in 1848. Only problem was: how would you raise $16 million?

Well, thanks to people taking stock in America, that problem was no problem. The government simply offered 20-year, six-percent Treasury Notes to the public.

The response was overwhelming. Well, today's U.S. Savings Bonds are even more attractive. A full 6% at only 5 years' maturity.

So join in America's Bicentennial Celebration by buying U.S. Savings Bonds where you work or bank.

It's a better deal than ever.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

Perkinson gets mail, by George!

Perkinson rural postal carrier, George W. Cruthird has sometimes spent the past 27 years in less than ideal weather conditions.

But last month Cruthird, whose route serves some 444 families in Stone, Pearl River, Hancock, and Harrison Counties, was given recognition for employment that often doesn't offer much time within the warm confines of a sheltered office.

Perkinson postmistress Dolores Mauldin surprised Cruthird with a check and special presentation from the U. S. Postal Service for his years of service to his postal patrons.

Cruthird was previously cited for 18 years of safe driving.

Veteran's service office/Chester Curvey

Support needed for VA care center

House Bill 287 has been introduced in the legislature. If passed and funded there will be created a 140 bed nursing unit in the building at Sanatorium known as the "Female Infirmary." This is a sound masonry structure completed in 1953. It has been vacant for the nearly 10 years.

Many VA service offices and other interested persons have expressed willingness to aid in this project. Your help is now urgently needed to influence your legislators that this is the best use that can be found for Sanatorium facilities. Please contact each one in your area within the next two weeks. Urge them to support the creation of the center and fund its operation for the first year.

After the center is fully operational there will be less state funds needed because the Veterans Administration will pay the center an amount per diem for each veteran receiving medical care.

Our legislature represents the voters of our state. They should act for the best interest of all citizens. There is no group of people deserving assistance and consideration more than the veterans of Mississippi. This is especially true of the veteran who is no longer able to be self-sustaining in our society by reason of age, disabilities, and insufficient income to pay for skilled nursing care. Nearly 1600 veterans are eligible for aid and attendance benefits from VA. The maximum A and A benefit $133 monthly. Private nursing home care is nearly $600 per month.

Everyone should keep in mind that only the best citizens of our state are veterans. They were "the cream of the crop" upon entry into military service. They were "selected" by the Selective Service System. Only those meeting certain physical and mental requirements were selected. Many now need help far beyond the assistance available through VA facilities. This is one reason the Congress made available to the VA funds to assist the respective states to build or remodel nursing care units. Forty Veterans Homes are being operated by states now with several under construction.

There is another important reason to support the Center. Sanatorium is really a community of 182 skilled and semi-skilled career state employees who face unemployment on July 1, 1976. The matter of economy for the area and state is worthy of consideration by the voters and their legislators.

Senate Bill 2207 creating the Center has been introduced into the legislature. It has been referred to the Public Health and Welfare Committee. The House Bill 287 was referred to the Appropriations Committee.

Please help me and others who are working hard in this effort to cause the creation of the Mississippi State Veterans Center at Sanatorium. I cannot foresee another opportunity such as the one we have now.

DAY-STARTER SUPREME

What a way to start the day—nice and easy too with convenient canned shrimp. Nothing hum-drum about these eggs, flattered with shrimp and onion and green pepper. More than you're accustomed to for breakfast—then how about lunch or brunch? Served with or on buttered toast, it's rich and satisfying and economical too!

PEPPERED EGGS WITH SHRIMP

- 2 cans (4 1/2 ounces each) shrimp
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup diced green pepper
- 6 eggs, beaten
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon coarse-ground pepper
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup Parmesan cheese (optional)

Drain and rinse shrimp. Melt butter in a 9-inch pan; saute onion and pepper until tender. Add shrimp and heat. Combine eggs, seasonings and milk; pour over shrimp. Turn heat medium high. Cook and stir by folding mixture over and over until eggs are firm and moist. Sprinkle with cheese, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

10th Anniversary

Nereids revelers deliver island salute

Queen Doris X and King Nereus X, Lucien Gex of Waveland, presided over the 10th Anniversary Ball of the Krewe of Nereids held Feb. 7 at St. Joseph Memorial Hall in Bay St. Louis.

The trumpet of conch shells began the luau as a record crowd of formally attired guests entered the Hall.

The theme, a salute to Hawaii, was carried out in the costumes of the six maids of the 1976 court. Islands represented were Kanai, "Bird of Paradise"; Oahu, "Coral from the Sea"; Hawaii, "Orchid"; Lanai, "Pineapple"; Maui, "Cascading Waterfall"; and Molokai, "Butterfly".

Dukes of the 1976 Court were Dr. Earl Breaux, Martin D. Blanchard, Pard

Handshoe, Michael W. Cooksey, Kenneth Fayard, and Arthur J. Chapman III.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of Queen Doris X as "Pepe, the Fire Goddess," who made her entrance from a fiery volcano to preside over the festivities.

Prior to her arrival, the all-woman krewe performed the Bamboo Stick dance and various groups represented Polynesian delicacies including Papayas and Coconuts.

The Captain of Nereids, "Island Plunage," and the court were entertained by a dance troupe who performed native Polynesian numbers including the traditional "Fire Dance," the contemporary "Tiny Bubbles," and the ancient "Tahitian Dance."

Before the Court was introduced, the krewe paid tribute to the past Queens of Nereids, introducing each in the order of her reign. Also introduced were the Maids and Dukes of the 1975 Court which depicted "The Jazz Age" and Queen Doris IX and King Nereus IX, David L. Johnson.

The 10th annual Ball marked the first event of the season for the Krewe of Nereids. Their parade with 16 floats depicting the salute to Hawaii theme will be held Feb. 22 at 2 p.m. Ronnie Kole will lead the procession through the streets of Waveland as Grand Marshal.

Nereids royalty celebrate 'Back to the Islands.'

New Orleans Symphony presents

an evening of concert Feb. 18

The Altrusa Club of Bay St. Louis-Waveland will sponsor the New Orleans Symphony in concert Feb. 18 at Bay Junior High School Auditorium.

Altrusa president Jeanette Monti said the concert, beginning at 7:45 p.m., will be conducted by Music Director Werner Torkanowsky.

The evening concert will be preceded by a student matinee featuring "Fireworks" by Igor Stravinsky; "Variations on America" by Charles Ives; "Candide Overture" by Leonard Bernstein; "The Incredible Flutist" by Walter Piston; "Hoodown" by Aaron Copland; and "American Salute" by Morton Gould.

During the main concert, the Symphony will perform Glinka's "Overture to Russian and Ludmilla"; William Schuman's "New England Tryptich"; and Tchaikovsky's "Symphony No. Six."

Now in its 39th season, the New Orleans Symphony, one of only 28 major orchestras in the United States, has played in nearly every major city in the nation, as well as in 21 countries in South America, Central America, the West Indies, and Mexico.

The 80 musicians, only five of whom are New Orleans natives, were born in nine foreign countries and 28 of the 50 states.

Many members of the orchestra teach privately and at local colleges, and within the orchestra are a number of smaller ensembles including at least two string quartets, a woodwind quintet, a brass quintet, and a Dixieland sextet.

Torkanowsky, now in his 12th season as music director and conductor, was raised and educated in Israel. He made his conducting debut as winner of the coveted Naumberg Award with the New York Philharmonic in 1961 and has since emerged as one of the major conductors in the United States.

His performances with the orchestras of Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Cincinnati, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Minneapolis have won the highest critical acclaim, as have his appearances at Philadelphia's Robin Hood Dell, New York's Mostly Mozart Festival, and the Aspen Festival.

Equally at home with opera, Torkanowsky opened the Festival of Two Worlds in Spoletto, Italy with Barber's "Vanessa" in 1961, and in 1966 with Debussy's "Pelleas et Melisande." He has conducted the New York City, Santa Fe and San Diego operas, and in September, 1974, led the Seattle Opera Company in sold out performances of Boito's "Mefistofele."

To obtain tickets to the Feb. 18 performance, persons may contact Miss Monti at 467-5431, or 467-3900 or any Altrusa Club members.

David Gomila weds Cynthia Romagossa

Miss Cynthia Marie Romagossa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Romagossa Jr. of DeLisle, and David James Gomila, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Gomila of Metairie, La., were married Saturday, Jan. 17 at an afternoon Nuptial Mass in St. Maria Goretti Catholic Church, New Orleans.

Rev. Earl Gauthreaux, pastor, performed the single ring ceremony before an altar decorated with a brass trellis and vases of pink and maroon gladiolus and carnations.

The mothers of the couple participated in the offertory procession. Organist Peter Flores, uncle of the bride, played the traditional wedding march and a number of selections during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza over peau de sole. The empire bodice, fashioned with a high ring collar and a tucked yoke of organza, was enhanced by appliques of Pointe de Venice lace. The cuffs of the long Bishop sleeves were of matching lace. The A-line skirt fell into a train from the back of the waistline.

The bride's long veil of imported illusion, bordered with Pointe de Venice lace, fell from a matching lace cap. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, lily of the valley and baby's breath.

Mrs. Linda Ruiz Chaisson of New Orleans, attended her cousin as matron of honor, and Miss Lisa Gremillion, New Orleans, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Misses Debbie Gomila, sister of the groom, Karen Beha, cousin of the bride, Julie Gomila, cousin of the groom, Dawn Fortier, Kathy Mistich, all of New Orleans; and Mitzl Akers of Long Beach, Miss. Flower girls were Paige Romagossa, cousin of the bride, and Angela Coman, cousin of the groom.

Joseph Duco of Chalmette, La., was best man. Groomsmen were Michael and Howard Romagossa III, brothers of the bride; Donald Campo, Baton Rouge; Byron Diegle, Kevin Brossette and Roy Webster, cousin of the groom, all of New Orleans. Keith Beha, cousin of the bride, served as ringbearer.

A reception was held at the Zodiac Room, Chalmette, La.

For her traveling outfit the bride wore a blue linen pants suit. An orchid from her bridal bouquet completed her ensemble.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mabel Moran of Waveland, Miss., and the late Charles J. Moran and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Romagossa Sr., New Orleans.

Carnival association readies for Masked Ball

St. Ann's Carnival Association, which counts among its members local as well as summer residents of the Clermont Harbor area, will present its second annual Masquerade Ball in Parish Hall, Lower Bay Road, Friday, Feb. 20, from 9 p.m. to midnight.

In keeping with tradition, the selection of the queen and maids of honor is left to the gods of Chance.

Another tradition is the crowning of the new queen by the previous year's monarch. Identity of the royal couple and their court will remain a closely guarded secret until the night of the ball when they are presented as rulers of one of the mythical carnival domains.

Following presentation of their majesties, the royal pair will invite their loyal subjects to join in general dancing and merriment until midnight.

Tickets for the event are priced $5 per couple and $3 per person, and may be obtained from Mrs. Alvin Ladner and Mrs. Gloria Moran, ticket chairmen, or from any organization member.

Music will be furnished by Bo and Dee.

Biloxi Indians, Ladners subject of historical talk

By URSULA SAN FILIPPO

"There are two kinds of Ladners - them that make it, and them that drink it!"

These were the words of Rev. Claude H. Stone Jr., pastor of Belle Fountain Church, Ocean Springs, speaking Monday to the Hancock County Historical Society.

Stone who is related "to the Ladners" grew up as a lighthouse keeper's son on Ship Island.

Still in a light vein, the noted archaeologist said his mother had frequently expressed confusion concerning his vaccinations. "All the other children in early Biloxi were vaccinated with standard hospital equipment, but somehow you were vaccinated with a phonograph needle," she reportedly said.

President of the Gulf Coast Chapter of the Mississippi Archaeological Society, Rev. Stone spoke on the Biloxi Indian, his origins and living environment. Known as the "Broken Pot" Indians, the Biloxi retained some distinctly personal or tribal customs that separated them from the other Indians in the area, Stone reported.

Two examples cited were the tribal women's custom of "punning their hair" with deer bone, and the utilization of animal bone as ear decoration.

Stone, who also teaches archaeology to about 135 students by incorporating classroom teaching with actual field trips, said his other interests were in Biblical archaeology, and the enjoyment in "looking back to the origin of man."

FRANK MILLER

In the Service

ROBERT F. ALEXANDER, Navy Constructionman Robert F. Alexander, son of Mrs. Robert L. Alexander of 117 Runnels Ave., Long Beach, Miss., returned to Gulfport, Miss., with Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 133 after eight months of extended operations in Puerto Rico.

A 1972 graduate of Pensacola Junior College at Pensacola, Fla., with an associate of arts degree, he joined the Navy in July 1956.

Ask the VA

Q—I served on active duty in the armed forces from 1942 until 1946. Am I still eligible to use my GI home loan?

A—Yes. The previous expiration date for World War II veterans, with basic eligibility, has been removed.

Q—I recently read that I may be entitled to an additional nine months of schooling under the GI Bill. Is this correct?

A—Yes, if you were originally entitled to 36 months' entitlement; were enrolled in a standard undergraduate college or first professional degree program when your entitlement was exhausted; if you have not completed requirements for a baccalaureate or higher degree; and if you need up to nine months to continue your pursuit of a bachelor or first professional degree.

Q—I know that I can claim unusual medical expenses at the end of the year to reduce my income for VA pension purposes. I am on a special diet which includes expensive foods and vitamins. Can these items be included in my claim?

A—Yes. Cost of foods, beverages and vitamins, when specially prescribed by a doctor for treatment of illness and in addition to, not as a substitute for, regular diet are allowed as medical expenses.

National Bicentennial symbol urged for '76 diplomas, annuals

John W. Warner, administrator of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA), has urged all educational systems and institutions to commemorate the significance of 1976 by including the national Bicentennial symbol on their certificates of graduation.

In addition to placing the symbol on diplomas, schools are encouraged to use it in their yearbooks, along with appropriate articles on student participation in the Bicentennial.

The symbol, which takes the form of a five-pointed star surrounded by a red, white and blue wreath, has become increasingly familiar in the past months as the symbol of America's 200th anniversary.

The new policy regarding yearbooks and diplomas was made possible by recently revised guidelines on the use of the national symbol.

Under law the ARBA has the responsibility of regulating the use of the national symbol, and has said that specific authorization is not needed by a school so long as the symbol will not be used in conjunction with any advertising.

Use of the national Bicentennial symbol must conform with the standards and guidelines of the ARBA Graphics Standards Manual. The manual can be obtained from the ARBA, 2401 E. Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20276.

OLG Carnival tickets placed on sale today

Tickets for the OLG Carnival Ball, scheduled Feb. 27 at 8 p.m. at St. Joseph Memorial Hall, will go on sale today. All tickets will be for reserved seats.

Tickets will be sold at the Corner Boutique, 215 Main St., and at the Coastal Insurance Agency on U. S. Highway 90, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. - 5 p.m.

The King's Party, to be held at midnight, will be by invitation. All persons receiving their invitation by mail should pick up their tickets at Coastal Insurance or the Corner Boutique prior to 5 p.m. Feb. 24.

According to Col. Randolph C. Bourgeois, executive director of OLG Carnival Association, the tickets should be picked up early to provide an accurate count for the food and beverage committee.

Arbor Day observed with Tree planting

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club will plant a Liberty Tree Feb. 13 at 10:30 a.m. at the Waveland Hospitality Center in observance of Arbor Day.

Mrs. Paul M. Miller Sr.,

Arbor Day chairman, and

Mrs. Dan M. Russell Jr., civic development chairman, said the first of six bird sanctuary markers will be placed at the center during the program, with three to be placed in Waveland and two in Bay St.

Louis during the year.

Mayor Johnny Longo and other city officials from the two communities have been invited to attend the ceremonies.

The Arbor Day observance is a continuance of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club's Bicentennial Project to plant 200 trees along U. S. Highway 90. The planting began last year as part of Mrs. Russell's civic development project.

Refreshments will be served during the ceremony.

OLA students stage fund raising events

Fifty girls from Our Lady's Academy will participate in an "Alabama or Bust" walkathon this Saturday.

Pledges for the event will be utilized for a four-day class trip to northern Alabama.

Backing up the walkathon is a seafood dinner Sunday in the school's cafeteria at $1.50 per head. Craft items made by the girls and their parents and a "fish pond" for children will also be available.

A further event is set for Saturday, March 6, when the girls are sponsoring a roller skating party from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Twin Pines Roller Rink. Admission here is $1.

During the intended trip, students hope to visit NASA's space center in Huntsville, Cathedral Caverns near Grant, Guntersville Dam, and Ave Maria Grotto at Cullman.

Should sufficient funds be raised the outing is provisionally set for the Easter Holidays.

Expo '76 hopes to leave them in stitches

Having trouble with that last piece of fabric that you had big plans for? Sleeve in backwards? Zipper puckering? Got a pattern piece that couldn't possibly fit?

Sounds like you need to spend the day at Fashion Expo '76 to be held in Gulfport, at West Side Community Center, Feb. 13, between 10 a.m. - 8 p.m.

Fashion Expo is an educational day for home seamstresses both inexperienced and accomplished who would like to know what's new in fashion & fabric.

The day will be full of sewing experiences, fashion shows and educational exhibits with an opportunity to learn ways of solving sewing problems from reliable consultants.

Such companies as Butterick-Vogue, Kilgore Create-A-Dress and Denim Show, Rosewood Fashion Fabrics and Burlington-Klopman Dressmakers Shop will present fashion shows during the day and evening to allow seamstresses to review the latest fashion styles and to gain creative sewing ideas. Companies presenting an exhibit and being represented by a consultant include Coats and Clark, Lily Thread Company, Unique Zipper Company, Stacy Interlining, Wiss Scissor Company and Wright's Trim and Decorations.

Stern and Stern Bridal Fashions will present an educational demonstration, while Tram, manufacturers of purse handles, will conduct a demonstration on purse-making and using accessories such as handles, latches, etc. A Tram consultant will also be present.

In addition to these firms the following local fabric stores, shops and sewing machine centers will also be represented: Cloth World, Singer, B You Fabrics, Fabricland, Sewing Machine Exchange, Leiter Fabrics, Saybrooks, Davis Sewing Machine Center, J.C. Penny, Sears, and Hancock Fabrics.

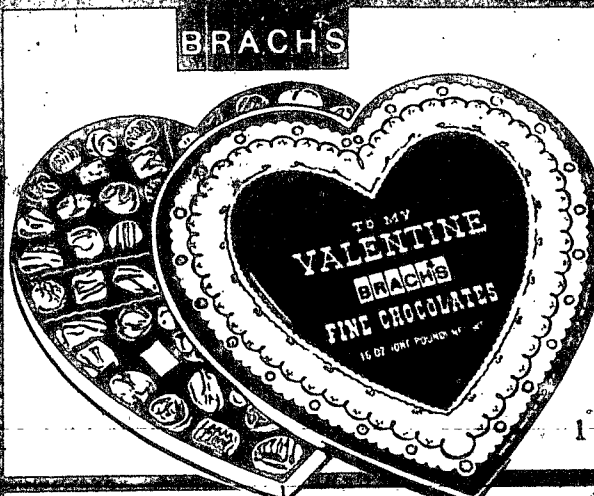

Everyone interested in home sewing is invited, and encouraged to spend as much time as you would like at the Fashion Expo. If you have not received a time schedule for Extension office and we will Fashion Shows, telephone the provide the information.

Coast historical society plans Friday remembrance

On Friday, Feb. 13, d'Arville first walked on Mississippi's mainland beach in 1699.

To commemorate this birthday along with the 200th for the United States, the Mississippi Coast Historical and Genealogical Society is inviting everyone to its quarterly meeting this Friday night at 7:30 p.m. at the Sheraton Biloxi Motor Inn.

Speaker for the evening, Dr. Robert V. Haynes, will speak on "The Gulf Coast Area in the American Revolution."

A graduate of Millsaps College and currently professor of history at the University of Houston, Dr. Haynes is author of "The Natchez District and the American Revolution" soon to be released by University Press of Mississippi.

Dr. Haynes has published in Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana journals and is author of the "History of Mississippi," printed in 1973. Membership of the historical society is composed of residents from all six coastal counties. There is no admission charge for Friday night's meeting.

HGH AUXILIARY

A fund raising luncheon was the topic of discussion during the February meeting of the Hancock General Hospital Auxiliary.

Proceeds from the luncheon will be used to help refurbish and equip the hospital's nursery which is now in the stage of being put back into use.

Mrs. Howard Haines, hospitality chairman, appointed committees, and March 31 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. was chosen as the luncheon date and time. Main Street Methodist Church will be the location. More information, as details are worked out, will be released at a later date.

Reports from all chairmen were given to president Mrs. Wallace Chavis.

Mrs. Helene Van Berge was welcomed as a new member and will begin her Pink Lady training immediately.

An offer from the Browne School of Christ Episcopal School to make Valentine trays for the hospital's patients was accepted with gratitude.

Hospital Administrator Muna Santiago explained that with refurbishment of the nursery, medical equipment that has been stored there for the past several years will have to be moved to another room. The latter is badly in need of room-darkening draperies, to maintain the equipment property, and the Auxiliary offered to furnish these.

A scrapbook from many years ago was sent to the Auxiliary from Miss Veronica Moore and will be added to the other scrapbooks, with a note of thanks sent to Mrs. Moore.

GULF COAST COUNCIL
The Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs, Inc. met Friday, Feb. 6 at 1:30 p.m. at the Woman's Club Center, Pascagoula St., Pascagoula, with 72 members representing 22 local clubs attending. Mrs. Leland Little, president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. J.B. Hogue Jr., chairman hostess, was in charge of the spring decorations.

Spring pilgrimage brochures were distributed by Mrs. William Sheppard, chairman. The 23rd annual pilgrimage begins March 20 at Ocean Springs and concludes March 23 in Moss Point.

During the meeting, the council approved a motion made by Mrs. Lelva Nybo, president, Bay-Waveland Garden Club, to donate $25 for the Avenue of Magnolias, part of the Keep Mississippi Beautiful project.

Mrs. Little announced that the council had been invited to participate in the Gulfport Bicentennial parade scheduled March 1, and Mrs. L.V. Pringle, director, Spanish Trail district, asked members to plant Liberty Trees in honor of the Bicentennial year.

Mrs. Eida Duke, HANDS chairman, requested garden clubs to submit their HANDS scrapbooks no later than March 15 at the manager's office at Sears in Edgewater Mall.

Members were asked to support farmers' markets on the Coast by W.E. Lee, marketing specialist with the State Department of Agriculture.

The following officers were elected for Group Two: Mrs. Luther O'Brian, Ocean Springs, second vice president; Mrs. Vernon Steele, Moss Point, third vice president; Mrs. Clarence Evans, Bay St. Louis, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carter Gerald, Vancleave, treasurer; and Mrs. N.E. Mead, Biloxi, parliamentarian.

The newly elected officers will be installed April 2 when the council meets at the Long Beach Garden Center.

AARP
The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) will hold their regular monthly meeting Feb. 16 at 10 a.m. at the Valona Jones Center. All members are asked to attend as plans for future activities will be discussed.

LEGION AUX. 139
American Legion Ladies Auxiliary, Unit 139, held its monthly meeting Monday night at the Legion Home with Mrs. Edward Murtagh, president, conducting a brief business session. The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. March 8.

Reports were given by the various chairmen and new members were welcomed. Additional plans for bicentennial events were discussed. Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Deana Curvey and Mrs. Agnes Ray.

ST. ANN'S ALTAR SOCIETY
St. Ann's Altar Society met Tuesday, Feb. 3 in the Parish Hall with Rev. Canisius Hayes, pastor St. Ann's Church, offering the opening prayer and Mrs. A.M. Thomas, president, conducting the business session.

Mrs. Margaret Punch, new member, was welcomed by the group. The monthly luncheon and social with Mrs. Marie Rietes, chairman, will be at noon Feb. 25 in Parish Hall. Donation will be $1.50 per person.

Plans were discussed for the second annual masquerade ball to be held Friday, Feb. 20, in Parish Hall.

The Altar Society Mass will be at 5 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 14. Mrs. Michael Schmitt and Mrs. Frank Corcoran hosted the social hour.

The next meeting will be held immediately following Ash Wednesday Mass.

One month old Michael Ryan Jones was the center of attention at a recent gathering of the family members of the family of Mrs. Russell J. Jr. of Bay St. Louis. While the family gathered and Mrs. Russell's grandmother, Mrs. M.J. King, 95, held young Michael, Mrs. Russell, her mother Mrs. Theo Tudy, and her daughter, Mrs. Michael Jones of Metairie, La., sat Duke Russell, smile with approval of the newest addition. The picture was taken in the recreation room of Miramar Nursing Home in Pass Christian.

Homemaker discussion

teaches stretching meat $

Extension Home Economist, Norine Barnes and Bob Allen of Jackson, representative of Food Discount-Jitney Jungle, conducted a leader training class on stretching the meat dollar at the Extension Auditorium Feb. 5.

Allen discussed various cuts of meat and Mrs. Barnes cooked and demonstrated money saving main dishes.

Door prizes, donated by Food Discount, Bay St. Louis, were won by Mesdames Marie Fazende, Marie Smith, Maggie Damborino, Gayle Levens and Gloria Holmes. Following the program a meeting of the Hancock County Extension Homemakers Council was held with Mrs. Gladys Discon, president, presiding.

NEWS OF FOOD

Firemen's Savory Favorites
If the idea of quick, easy, inexpensive, man-sized meals can make your mouth water, here's some hot news for you: 150 recipes have been gathered from the favorites found in America's firehouses and put into a cookbook.

Because their job requires round-the-clock duty, most firemen cook and eat at the station. They opt for the fastest, heartiest and most inexpensive recipes in America—and then they take short cuts.

This unique cookbook was compiled by Dorothy Jackson Kite, the wife of a fireman.

cook, and contains at least one recipe from every one of the fifty states. Called The Firehouse Cookbook, published by Viking, it also includes amusing anecdotes about firemen cooks, a short history of fire fighting in America and an explanation of firehouse cooking systems.

There are recipes for spice cake made with a special ingredient, pot roast with spaghetti sauce, tomato aspic, homemade ice cream and venison steak. There are new ways to make old standbys, like hamburgers and potatoes, a quick and easy way to make a different and delicious pudding cake that's mixed, baked and served in the same pan, and one-dish meals that minimize cleanup.

Each recipe is given in two forms: one that's enough to feed a firehouse full of hungry men, and another sized to please an average family. If you give this book a warm reception, it can give you some pretty tasty ideas.

the GFWC commissioned an American artist to sculpture in glass a series of four collector's plates. Each plate features a scene depicting one of the four major movements of the American Revolution and, in their entirety, depict a complete and moving "Portrait of Liberty."

The handmade commemorative plates are designed and produced for the GFWC by the prestigious Fenton Art Glass Company of Williamstown, West Virginia, and a new design has been released each year for four consecutive years (1973-1974-1975-1976).

The first plate each year for the four year program has been presented to the Nation's First Lady for display at the White House.

"In addition," Mrs. Miller added, "we are proud that the Freedoms Foundation has accepted our 'Official' Bicentennial Plates for permanent display at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania."

On July 4, 1976 clubwomen will gather at Independence Hall for a final ceremony when the moulds of the plates will be publicly destroyed, thereby creating a limited edition.

"This means that not only will the plates become treasured heirlooms with great personal value, but their market value is sure to increase as well," Mrs. Miller pointed out.

Final issue

Mrs. Carroll E. Miller, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, displays the final official bicentennial plate and announces the success of this four year program.

Saenger benefit features N.O. pianist

Ronnie Kole, New Orleans jazz pianist, will present a jazz benefit concert for restoration of the Saenger Theatre at the Saenger Theatre.

forming Arts Feb. 15 at 4 p.m.

Tickets for the Gold Ribbon reserved section with complimentary beverage are $10; second tier, $6.50 and balcony, $5.

Tickets are now available at the Saenger Theatre office, Reynoir St., Biloxi, or may be obtained by telephoning Werlein's for Music, Edgewater Plaza, 432-5354.

ETV Classroom role is topic

Educational Television and its use in the classroom will be the topic of a teachers workshop this afternoon at Charles B. Murphy Elementary School, Pearlinton.

Arranged by Mrs. Helen Lee, ETV representative at C.B. Murphy, the program is being made available to teachers of other units within the county.

Parents and public wishing to attend are asked to contact the school ahead of the scheduled time of 1:30 p.m. to permit space allocation prior to their arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady James announce the birth of their fourth child - and first daughter, Shonda Lynne, Jan. 30, at Slidell Memorial Hospital. She weighed five pounds, 14 ounces.

Mrs. James is the former Diane Cuevas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Cuevas of Ansley, Miss.

Coming Events

The Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary will feature a tribute to St. Valentine during the special concert hour Sunday February 15 over WPUP radio Bay St. Louis.

The program will be aired at 3:30 p.m.

The Charismatic prayer group meets every Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in St. Augustine Seminary cafeteria.

Everyone is invited.

Bay St. Louis Extension Homemakers Club will meet at 2 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 19, in the Extension Auditorium. All members are asked to attend.

Enthusiasts choice

Clem Zwack poses with Charlie G., a 36 race winner and the first All-American in the young history of Mobile Greyhound Park.

Mobile star among 1975 choices

Mobile Greyhound Park's juvenile champ, Charlie G., was among the 1975 All-American team selected by readers of the Greyhound Racing Record, in a recent poll.

Charlie G. is owned and trained by Clem Zwack.

Others placing on the team were leading vote getter and honorary captain My Cactus owned by R.O. Collins; E.L. Beckner's Boga, killed in a racing accident in Tampa; top money winner Bashful Guy owned by Robert Wooten; V.P. Spradling's Sandy Printer, also a challenger for the 1974 team; Don Conatser's First Class, a 33-time winner of the western circuit; and the dut Faceless Man and Word Twister, both of the G.A. Alderson Kennel.

Charlie G. was the first All-American for the Mobile Park, now in its third season of operation. It was also the first time a greyhound from the state of Alabama had been so honored.

The Racing Record will present a formal award to Zwack and Charlie G. at a date to be announced later in the 1976 season.

Official schooling races will begin at Mobile Monday, Feb. 23, with the opening day of the 1976 season set for Saturday, March 6.

Mobile Greyhound Park is located on I-10 just west of Mobile at the Theodore-Dawles exit.

Oak Downs

Hancock mounts jam up the middle

(Special to The Echo)

PEARL RIVER, La. — The middle of the racing program Sunday at Oak Downs was dominated by Hancock County horses.

La Clede, owned and trained by Delbert Cuevas, got the string started by winning the five-furlong seventh race in 1:06.27 over Rocky Harris (1:06.31) and Miss Allyson (1:07.20).

La Clede, with Ralph Shubert aboard, had to come from behind in a stirring stretch run to nip Rocky Harris in a "photo finish."

In the next race, Ring Bearer, owned by Leonard Babineau and trained by Terry Bounds, captured the 250-yard event with a time of 14.12 seconds over T Boy (14.19) and Sister Cee Lane (14.86).

Rebecca Bailey, owned by Raymond Ellis and trained by Felix Pavolini, took the 350-yard ninth with a clocking of 19.98 seconds over Big Splash (20.37) and Terrific Child.

Two meet records were broken as Spot Me Five topped the three-furlong mark with a clocking of 38.145 in the third race, and Dividend Bar set a new meet standard of 14.00 in capturing the 250-yard 12th.

Sunday's results:
1) 300 yards, Sandy's Red Star, 18.17 seconds; Dave Sanderson, owner and trainer; Dennis Ory, jockey. Flash and Scar Leg threw jockeys after coming out of starting gate.

Grant to finance research for suitable energy sources

The effects of offshore oil and gas production on Mississippi's coastal environment and economic and social structure, are being studied by the state under an $80,000 grant from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

The money will be used to determine what types of on-shore energy facilities are suitable for the Mississippi Coast, where they can best be located, how they will affect critical environmental areas, and what additional facilities and social services will be needed in the state in connection with offshore drilling.

Other studies will be undertaken to lessen the impact of federal leasing of the Outer Continental Shelf off the Mississippi Coast to search for larger energy supplies.

The results of the studies will be integrated into the development of statewide Coastal Zone Management program designed to coordinate the growing demands for use of the Coast for residences, commercial industry, recreation, sports and various other uses.

Mississippi is the focus of a three-year effort to develop a Coastal Zone Management program spearheaded by the Mississippi Marine Resources Council, for which the state has already received from NOAA nearly a quarter million dollars.

The $80,000 grant is a supplement to a second-year grant made last summer. Under provisions of the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, the amount will be matched by $40,000 already appropriated by the state, bringing the total budget for offshore energy studies to $120,000.

Once Mississippi develops its CZM program, the state will then submit it to the Secretary of Commerce for approval in order to receive additional grant funds to put the plan into effect.

If the program is approved, all federal agencies must

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

Still hoping that the weather will change and that conditions will get better for all types of fishing. The weather has been changeable with cold nights and warm days. The tides also haven't been right, low in the mornings and rising in the afternoons.

Although some nice bass have been caught, on the other hand salt water fish haven't been biting like they should. Too low tides have been affecting fishing out in the marsh. What is needed is a happy medium regarding the tides. Get ready for some good fishing after February is our prediction. There will be plenty time this summer.

Won't be long now before the crayfish season opens. Better known as "mud bugs" they are a delicious eating shell fish the head of which is stuffed and called Crayfish Bisque. They are caught mostly in Louisiana where there are Crayfish festivals. Locally we have crayfish parties. Crayfish are caught in small nets baited with meat in low marshy land. As many as 25 are often caught in one net. Mud bugs are usually boiled for best eating. They are imported from La. as the Mississippi species are found mostly in sandy soil and unfit for eating. They can be purchased at local fish markets.

Crayfish and beer are the favorite meal for lots of folks.

Just a reminder. Al Kingston's Barber shop, on Union and Hancock Sts., is also a tackle shop. They repair reels, fishing rods, etc. Saves a trip out of town when your tackle needs repairing.

To mention a few quail hunters, Harry Roman, Louis Decell, Hoke Ogden, and many local quail hunters claim this year's quail has been the worst in years. They all have bird dogs of the best calibre, but the birds have been scarce. They all said while hunting quail, woodcock and rabbits were included in the kill.

Most everyone knows where Lloyd Ladner's Fish Market is. If you don't, find it. They usually have all kinds of seafood, oysters, shrimp for eating and bait. You can have a seafood supper with little trouble.

Folks enjoyed the oyster supper at Eddie Marquez's Bar last Saturday night. It was a benefit affair and was enjoyed by a nice group.

Enjoyed eating rabbit one night this week. It was given to me by Ray Garner who killed it. It was a big one and was prepared by Mrs. Fred Garner, an expert at cooking most any kind of game. Thanks folks.

Dove hunting wasn't too hot either this season, according to those who went after them. Reason, we think is that there are no cover crops needed to keep the birds in this section. Our farmers are diverting their lands to pastures for cattle raising.

Will go to writing fishing news from now on since the hunting has about ended. More hunters will take to that kind of sport. Most hunters are also fishermen and will take to the streams for the rest of the year. Fishing will come into its own as soon as the weather levels off.

The past week reports have come in that bass (green trout) fishing has improved. With warmer weather coming up this type of fishing will get right. Join the many and go to this type of fishing. A lot of enjoyment can be gotten out of it.

After the end of February soft crabbing and floundering will start again. It's a sport that the whole family can participate in. All that is needed is a light, a spear and a few hours time. Ask someone who goes. You'll be glad you did. Just remember that flounders come in on a rising tide and soft crabs give best on a low or falling tide.

You would be amazed how good fly fishing is. No digging worms, no catching live bait, nothing but buying a few artificial baits. Learning to use a fly rod is easy. A little practice and you have it made.

You are never too old to fish according to Alfred F. Roehm who is nearing 87 years of age. Al does both fresh and salt water fishing, crabbing, etc. He loves to catch frogs and said he saw the time when he couldn't bring 'em all home. Wish that would happen now. Things do change, don't they? Al still goes for a little dancing.

Due to numerous requests from area fishermen, the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge was opened to year-round sportsfishing Jan. 27 by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission at its regular monthly meeting.

J. Burton Angelle, commission director, said permits to fish on the refuge will still be required. Those holding valid permits can use the area now and new permits can be acquired from the refuge headquarters, Route 1, Box 20-B, Grand Chenier, LA 70643, (318) 538-3431.

The refuge had been closed to fishing during the winter months.
